Rock Solid Knowledge

Founded in 2009, Rock Solid Knowledge was formed by a group of experienced trainers and developers, who wanted to bring a full end-to-end service to our customers. From consulting to help our clients identify their needs, through training to build client's teams' skills, to development services to bolster their teams during the initial build (or indeed the whole application lifecycle).

We are a small dynamic team always looking to add the best talent to our company; in return for working with us we will provide you with an environment where you are challenged and you challenge us to provide the best solution possible for our clients.

When working with our clients we strive to introduce them to the best practices in software development, and the best-of-breed in software tooling. This means we are always looking at, and learning new technologies in anticipation of our clients' needs.

At Rock Solid Knowledge we appreciate the importance in providing an environment where everyone - regardless of age, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation and physical ability – feels valued and empowered to contribute to every aspect of our work. Everyone brings a unique perspective to work with them and embracing this only makes our solutions better.

We provide you with the support and flexibility you need as an employee and entrust that you will do the same for us. We take pride in the fact that people stay with us because they like working here.

Role

We have seen an increasing demand for mobile applications from our customers – a demand that we can only see growing in the future.

Therefore, we are looking for developers to work on our Xamarin projects. Initially the work will be Xamarin iOS but, over time will also include Xamarin Android and server-side development.

You will be a developer who has history of delivering high quality, maintainable software and used to working the entire stack; from UI to backend. Ideally you have experience working in the mobile environment, or a demonstrable passion that you can easily move to this environment. Xamarin experience is highly desirable but we are also happy to consider solid C# developers with an interest in being cross trained to Xamarin and iOS.

You will get the opportunity to work directly with our customer so clear and effective communication skills are important.

Qualifications, Experience and Skills

Required

- Two+ years' experience in a .NET development role at a commercial software company
- Excellent knowledge of .NET and C#
- Familiarity with unit testing and software design patterns
- Able to communicate effectively about work in progress and highlight risks and issues
- Creative and innovative problem-solving skills
- Initiative and the ability to work independently and in a team
- The ability to deliver clear, concise, well-structured code that adheres to commercial standards
- A passion for continuous learning

Preferred

- Experience of Xamarin for iOS
- Experience with Agile/SCRUM/Lean software development
- Keen to learn more about new languages and frameworks
- Experience of TDD and BDD

Salary

Whether you are relatively new to commercial development or are a seasoned developer we are interested in talking to you. The salary offered will depend on your experience and will be in the range £25,000 to £50,000.
